agencies, residential care facilities, family members and a variety of others. Here is the guide clinicians need to understand how infection control (IC) applies to them in the ambulatory process. "Infection Control Manual for the Physician's Office" describes the steps physicians and their staff should take to protect patients, staff, and the environment and prevent the spread of infectious diseases. Your copy of the "Infection Control Manual for the Physician's Office" includes: IC risk assessment forms specific to the physician's office

Medical device cleaning checklist for clinical staff Pre-employment vaccination checklist Bloodborne pathogen risk assessment Bloodborne pathogen post-exposure counseling materials Develop the right IC program for your practice's unique needs Many physicians who operate their own practice have nowhere to turn for a resource to help develop an IC program. There are guidelines for other medical environments, such as acute-care hospitals or long term care facilities, which have many staff and departments that can assist in implementing and maintaining an IC plan. Those guidelines won't work in a physician's office. In most offices, it's the medical assistants who perform the majority of the work and have the responsibility to oversee IC efforts--with little professional training. "Infection Control Manual for the Physician's Office" will help you work with medical assistants and the entire office team and create a workable plan to manage such IC topics as hand hygiene, respiratory etiquette, office disinfection, and sterilization. Take a look at some of the topics covered in this book and CD-ROM set: Overview: Transmission of organisms Patient triage Standard Precautions Transmission-based Precautions Safety of Healthcare Workers Immunization Avoiding infection from patients The Environment Waste disposal Sterilization and disinfection General housekeeping IC and office design "Infection Control Manual for the Physician's Office" is a user-friendly resource packaged in a portable 8 x 11 binder that lays flat on the desk for easy use and snaps open so you can add your own policies and procedures.
